

ServeNoMaster 146: Using Your Time Effectively

Highlights:

[1:08] Organize between high and low priority projects.

[8:02] Work on short term and long term projects.

- Short term projects pay you within the week and doesn't consume too much of your time. But they pay less amount of money than long term projects.
- Long term projects produces income over time and eventually will become passive income.

[13:41] Working vs not working – spending time to actually do work or to spend on non-work stuff like time with family

[20:52] Organize your day a little bit before you start it

[21:13] Look at all your projects and categorize into short and long term project. Then rank base on how much money you'll make and how fast you can finish them.

[22:12] Use a basic system than a complicated one that also takes too much of your time.
